Recognition, Value, Expertise... It is what certification is all about!

ABOUT CERTIFICATION

What makes a certified nurse different? Essentially, we believe it is the willingness of the nurse to be accountable for his/her knowledge and the willingness to take the risk of undergoing a third party review of their knowledge. Certified nurses make a difference to their patients and to their institutions. They are unique professionals that have made the commitment to life long learning, patient advocacy and professional practice.

Certification is more than an initial after your name... You owe it to yourself to take the next step in your professional development. Earning your RNC credential will validate your expertise and will give you tangible recognition of your commitment to the profession of nursing.

GENERAL POLICIES

How Exams are Scored

NCC examinations are criterion referenced. This means the passing score is based on predetermined criteria. The passing score is established by the NCC Board of Directors.

NCC utilizes the item response theory of psychometrics for the analysis of its examinations. Item Response Theory (Rasch analysis) is the study of tests and item scores based on assumptions concerning the mathematical relationship between abilities and item responses. Each test item has a difficulty and ability level. The higher the difficulty of an item, the greater the ability score one achieves. Pass/ fail is determined based on the number of questions answered correctly. As a question is answered correctly, the ability score is increased and it decreases when a question is answered incorrectly. The difficulty of the examination determines the actual number of questions that must be answered correctly in order to achieve the passing ability level.

Because more than one form of the examination is given, a process called equating is used. This procedure converts all results to a common scale. Someone who takes a slightly more difficult form of the examination will need to answer fewer questions correctly than someone who takes a slightly easier form of the examination.

Test result reports will identify pass/fail status and give feedback on the various content areas of the exam in the form of word descriptors: very weak, weak, average, strong, very strong. Pass/fail rates for previous NCC exams can be viewed on the NCC website, www.nccwebsite.org.

How to Study

NCC does not provide review courses or study materials for the examination. NCC views the examinations as an evaluative process. Eligibility criteria have been established to identify minimum levels of preparation for the examinations. NCC believes your practice experience is your best preparation. Candidates will receive detailed test outlines and suggested resources upon being determined eligible to take the examination.

ADA and Related Policies

It is the policy of NCC that no individual shall be excluded from the opportunity to participate in the NCC examination program on the basis of race, national origin, religion, sex, age or disability.

Any requests for special testing accommodations pursuant to the Americans with Disabilities Act must be made in writing and submitted with the application and documentation forms. The special request form can be requested by writing to NCC or downloaded from the NCC website. Upon receipt of such requests for special accommodations, NCC will contact the applicant. Such requests must be signed by a clinician, physician, or other qualified specialist with training and experience appropriate to diagnose and treat the specified disability.

All policies and procedures are subject to change without notice

Appeals Procedure

Any request to waive any policy of the NCC Board of Directors relative to eligibility, administration, examination content issues, or certification maintenance must be received in writing within 60 days of the dispute. The correspondence should contain a detailed account as to why the NCC policy should be waived or the candidate's status should be changed. Such requests are referred to the NCC Policy Review Committee of the Board of Directors. All decisions will be provided in writing. Cases not resolved by the Policy Review Committee will be referred to the full Board of Directors.

Maintaining Your Certification

The NCC Maintenance Program requires certified RNCs to maintain their certification on a three year basis. The purpose of the maintenance program is to assess the ongoing core certification knowledge competencies of the RNC.

Those maintaining a certification must either successfully retest or earn continuing education in the specified certification specialty area, this CE will be based on the results of the individual's continuing competency specialty assessment. Each certified professional is required to complete a maintenance application and pay a maintenance fee in addition to documentation of the appropriate continuing education activities. Individuals who allow their certification to lapse can regain their status only through re-examination. If that occurs, the then current examination eligibility criteria will need to be met.

All policies and procedures are subject to change without notice

ABOUT NCC

NCC is a not for profit organization that has certified over 100,000 nurses and nurse practitioners in the women's health, obstetric and neonatal nursing specialty areas. Established in 1975, NCC sponsors certification examinations and subspecialty exams for competency validation.

NCC'S PHILOSOPHY OF CERTIFICATION

Certification is an evaluative process that provides nurses in the obstetric, gynecologic, and neonatal nursing specialties the opportunity to demonstrate publicly what they know and to be recognized for the knowledge they possess. As a voluntary process, the NCC certification examinations are designed to test for special knowledge.

The NCC certification credential carries no licensing authority. The ability to practice is regulated by the state boards of nursing and while certification may be required in some states for advance practice nursing roles, NCC has no regulatory power to require states to recognize certification for this purpose. Practice and educational standards are reflected in the credentialing process but the responsibility for development of such standards rests with the professional nursing specialty organizations and the nursing education community.

NCC encourages individual nurses to seek out information about how certification relates to state licensure requirements, program accreditation of the educational institutions attended, the educational and practice standards of the national nursing specialty organizations and employment expectations in their community. Contact with state boards of nursing, universities and colleges, professional specialty nursing organizations and individual employers for specific requirements is highly recommended.

MYTH: Extensive computer knowledge is needed. If you can press a key on the keyboard or click on a mouse, you have all the requisite skills to take an NCC computer test. A tutorial is provided at the test center to familiarize you with the computer process. The time for the tutorial doesn't count toward your allotted testing time.

MYTH: You cannot go back to your previous answers or re-review questions. NCC allows individuals to re-review questions. You can mark questions and re-visit them at any time you wish.

MYTH: Computer tests are harder. Computer tests are developed the same way as paper/pencil tests are. The only difference between the two is how they are administered. Pass rates are similar to paper and pencil tests.

ICP program

Institutional Certification Plan (ICP)

In 2004, NCC launched the Institutional Certification Plan program which allowed institutions to sponsor NCC certification and subspecialty exam testing at their own institutions. The program has several options based on the volume of participants and when testing will occur. The ICP program provides institutions flexibility in testing times. If the institution has between 25 and 100 participants, the institution can select the time in which testing will occur. If over 100 participants, the testing time is also on demand and fee discounts are offered. All NCC core and Subspecialty examinations can be used to qualify for the minimum participation.

Under the plan, an institution designates a test coordinator who serves as the main contact person for NCC. The program is operated under a written contract between NCC and the individual hospital or hospital system. Individuals CANNOT participate in the program on their own. There must be a sponsoring institution. For more information about the ICP program, visit the NCC website or email Betty Sobala, ICP coordinator at bsobala@nccnet.org.

Rules for those applicants taking the test under the ICP program which is sponsored by an employer or other organization may be different than what is listed in this catalog. A memo of understanding is signed by the applicant taking an NCC exam under these special circumstances that outlines specific policies to which each individual applicant is subject.
